

Leno

Fox Packaging was one of the original leno converters, and we are still a top U.S. manufacturer of bulk Leno bags for a wide variety of commodities including onions, peanuts, cabbage, citrus, firewood and other miscellaneous items.

We pride ourselves on being a one-stop conversion company for Leno bags, offering 100% in-house leno conversion, printing, sewing, and final manufacturing. We have the most stringent specifications for our Leno products including material weight, quality of dye pigments, resins and bag strength.

Fox Packaging also has the flexibility to customize leno bags for our customers including new mesh colors for enhanced product presentation and different bag widths to accommodate machinery requirements. In addition, we are able to convert leno bags to a "pillow top" design to optimize pallet loading.
